THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

MYSTERY ARTISTS
INDUCED TO STAY
FOR SECOND WEEK

New evidences of the "black art" will be forthcoming at the Bijou theater during the present week, the management having induced Hugard & Company to remain over for another week in order that everyone in Honolulu may be given an opportunity of witnessing the leading manipulator of the elements of the occult ever to visit this city. Hugard is a wizard in several lines of endeavor and is a sterling entertainer in every one. With a deck of cards he removes spots and calls cards at will. More than this he forces the uninitiated to perform like tricks. His assistants are volunteers called from the audience and different ones are used each time he appears, and these assistants are made to perform tricks that might make the great Kellar hesitate.

Hugard and his associates will present an entirely new program for the present week with new mystery, new songs, new musical selections and a brand new volcanic eruption by Ching Sung Loo. A few of the most spectacular of the tricks performed during the past week will again be presented. Many of these are worth seeing more than once and have therefore been retained in the new bill. The rifle act is one of the most spectacular ever presented here and should prove a riot on the mainland, the objective of these artists. The fire-eating work of Ching Sung Loo is also marvelous and is worthy of repetition. Incidentally, this celestial has an eye for beauty in his choice of assistants and sees to it that their costumes are everything that could be desired. The fact that one of the ladies is a decided blonde and the other a brunette demonstrates his cosmopolitan tastes.

Miss Myra Errington will sing new ballads and render new selections on both the xylophone and silver-voins. The latter is the biggest novelty in musical instruments ever brought to Honolulu and one from which the sweetest music is possible. It is undoubtedly a difficult feat to manipulate these discs and secure the results as does this young lady. Miss Milly Clare will present an entire new program of chic songs and the entire program should be one that spells—class.

It might be well to mention that Ching is assisted by See Yoo Soon and So Shi. Whether there is any significance in these names the program fails to state.

'SUBMARINE D-2'
THRILLING FILM

Thrills are offered throughout the entire five reels of the current feature.

OUR YOUNG WOMEN

are so often subject to headache—are languid, pale and nervous—because their blood is thin or insufficient. They are not really sick and hesitate to complain, but they lack that ambition and vivacity which is their birthright. They do not need drugs—but do need the tonic and nourishment in Scott's Emulsion that makes richer blood, fills hollow cheeks, suppresses nervousness and establishes strength. Nourishment alone makes blood and Scott's Emulsion is the essence of concentrated nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or opiates.

If mother or daughter is frail, pale or nervous, give her Scott's for one month and see the betterment. It has a wholesome, "nutty" flavor. Avoid substitutes. At any drug store.

film at the Hawaii theater. "The Hero of Submarine D-2." Charles Richman, who was last seen at the Hawaii in the leading role of the Fox feature film "The Idler," furnishes the major part of the thrills in the role of Lieutenant Commander Colton, U. S. N., in command of the D-2. One of the most spectacular "stunts" ever seen in a film is probably Richman being shot from a torpedo tube. According to the producers the United States navy submarine D-2 was used for this feat and Richman actually was propelled from the torpedo tube.

It was originally proposed to "fake" this part of the story, but the artist insisted on absolute realism, and Lieut. P. K. Kobottom, in command of the D-2, had his undersea fighter sunk to a depth of five feet and the human torpedo released. Richman was under water not more than three seconds and traveled a distance of about forty feet—probably a world's record for under water travel.

DAINTY STAR IS IDEAL AS MOLLY

"Molly Make Believe" is a delightful story from the pen of Eleanor Hall Abbott. It has been pictured by the Famous Players Film Company and their daintiest little star chosen to portray the role of Molly. Marguerite Clark is the star and she is ideal in the part of this lovable creation—witness the Liberty theater crowds. "Molly Make Believe" arrived at the Liberty last night and the house was packed.

Romance, comedy and pathos are excellently blended in this delightful offering and those who have seen Marguerite Clark in previous offerings—the blind are practically all who do not come under this heading—will realize how easy it is for her to handle this blend. The supporting cast is Famous Players quality.

Keen interest is being shown by the patrons of the Liberty in "The Iron Claw," the serial for the first half of the week. The "Laughing Mask" is the character that is causing the most speculation and none is able to figure just who this individual can be.

With the object of instructing people both in and out of Canada in the natural resources of the country, the Dominion government has arranged for films to be prepared of scenes from one end of Canada to the other.

NO BITTERNESS IS AROUSED BY PINKHAM TALK

Editorial in Japanese Paper is Mild in Tone When It Criticizes Governor

While Governor Pinkham's address is taken to an extent as an attack upon Japan, owing to certain observations which he made relative to Japan and other nations, there appears no strong resentment in the Hawaiian Japanese press, but on the contrary the tone is that of an American citizen he is entitled to make such observations and remarks as he may see fit. Relative to his speech and the sentiments which he saw fit to express, Hawaii Hochi on September 22, said editorially:

"The Governor Attacks Japan"

"The world is passing through a material and not an ethical experience. Japan, producing population faster than it can make room for it, attempts expansion in various parts of the world, and now the world situation admits of the chance, she rapidly seeks absolute control of China, and in so doing pays no regard to the altruistic United States other than to make plausible explanations."

This is a premise of Governor Pinkham's address before the Civic Convention, now in session at Hilo, when he spoke about military affairs in this territory. And he continually emphasized in his speech, "We have among us Esau who would sell their birthright and that of the whole community for a mess of pottage. We have among us Judas Iscariots to whom 30 pieces of silver would justify the sacrifice of our country and we have Benedict Arnolds who would drag down the high-spirited to a spy's death. You can spot them."

It was a rather inciting speech for a governor to deliver in public, but it may be necessary for the governor to use such words to force his opinions into these dull-headed Hawaiian politicians. We praise our governor for his wisdom in utilizing the occasion for this speech in a meeting prepared by others.

There is no rule in this free country that governors can not allow their spirits to rise high, nor is there a law prohibiting governors from making sensational speeches. All governors can enjoy freedom of speech so long as they do not disturb the peace of the public. So Governor Pinkham can loudly shout that Japan is the greatest lying country in the world if he wishes to say so, and therefore we are not going to attack the Governor for his utterances, nor shall we ask him to correct his observations upon Japan and her people—let him shout all he wants.

But there is one point on which we cannot satisfy ourselves. In the conclusion he said: "It is not for you nor me to judge concerning peace or war." By reading his speech with careful attention, from his premises this conclusion cannot be reached. In his speech Governor Pinkham only told us facts and common history, and he did not express his grand ideas openly as to what should be done in the future, nor as to coming events. If the governor realizes his ideas, we should like to hear it, and also to hear still further his opinions upon the future. The conclusion of his speech is not sufficient, it is rather incomplete. Peace or war: if the governor will tell us more we shall be glad.

The storage capacity of the grain elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, Ontario, will be increased this year by nearly 5,000,000 bushels. The total storage capacity at the Canadian head of the lakes, when these new plants are in working order, will be 48,845,000 bushels, or about 1,000,000 bushels more capacity than all the elevators at Chicago—until recently the greatest grain port in the world.
